

Thank you for sharing what gender equality means to you! While you can use a variety of video hosting sites to upload your video, we recommend YouTube. Here is a quick guide to uploading your video to YouTube:

Step 1: Access the YouTube upload page at the following link:

- http://upload.youtube.com/my\_videos\_upload
- You'll be presented with a credentials screen.

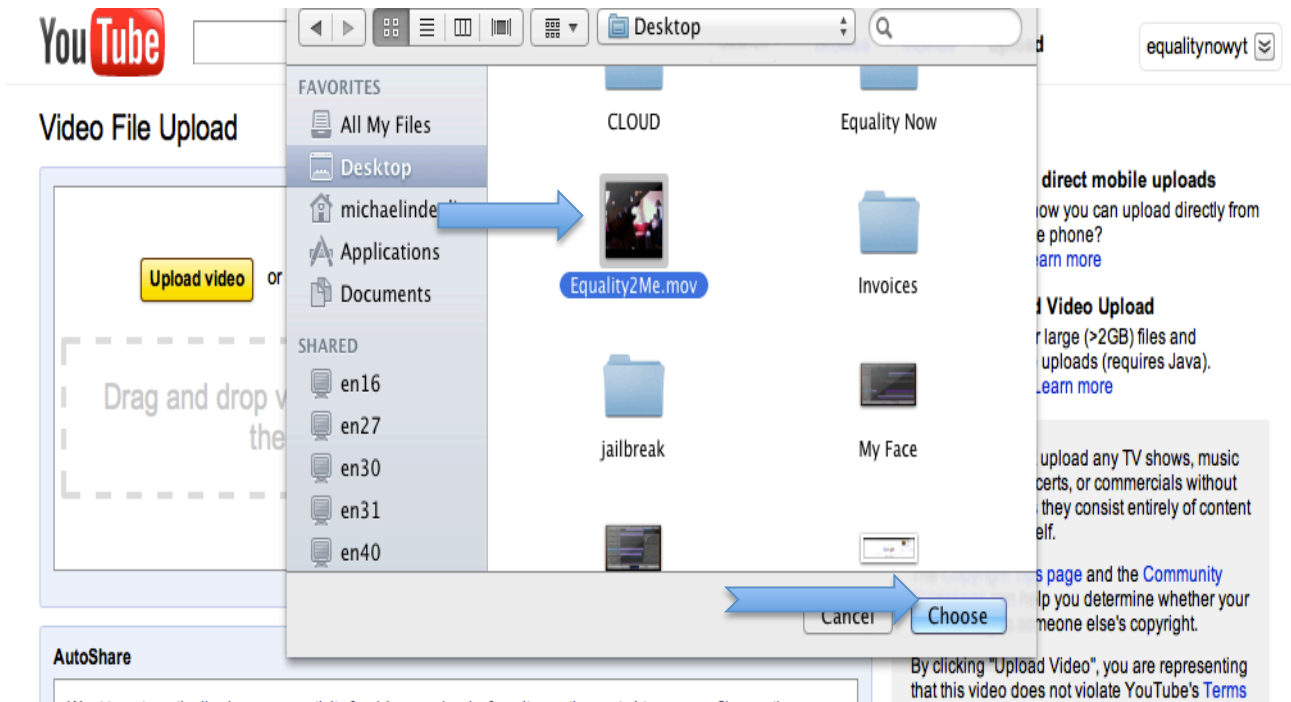

- Enter either your youtube username or your gmail account name
- If you don't have either click on 'create account'
- Select 'sign in'

Step 2: You'll now be presented with an upload screen. Select 'Upload Video'

- A popup window will appear where you can choose the 'What Equality Means To Me' video you've made.

Step 3: The upload will begin. It is important to make the following adjustments to the upload window.

- Change the video title to something like Equality2Me_personsname
- Enter tags such as Equality2Me, gender equality...etc
- Under the option privacy...you want to SELECT PUBLIC
- Save Changes

The screenshot shows the YouTube upload interface for a video titled "Equality2Me_MikeIndeglio" (253.79M). The upload progress is at 3%, with an estimated 46 minutes remaining. The "Video information and privacy settings" section is expanded, showing the following fields:

- Title: Equality2Me_MikeIndeglio
- Description: What gender equality means to me! (enter any description.)
- Tags: Equality2Me, gender equality, equal rights, ETC
- Category: -- Select a category --
- Privacy:  Public (anyone can search for and view - recommended),  Unlisted (anyone with the link can view),  Private (only specific YouTube users can view)
- License:  Standard YouTube License,  Creative Commons - Attribution (CC-BY - reuse allowed)

A "Save changes" button is located at the bottom of the settings section. Blue arrows point to the Title, Tags, Privacy, and Save changes fields. A yellow circle highlights the "Public" privacy option.
